3503 E21854 1911

SEA SECRETS Cornelia-Frances Bedell

Mustrated-by -Artno Wilbur Parsons
Under direction
Of the Author.

NEW YORK STEWART AND COMPANY 1911

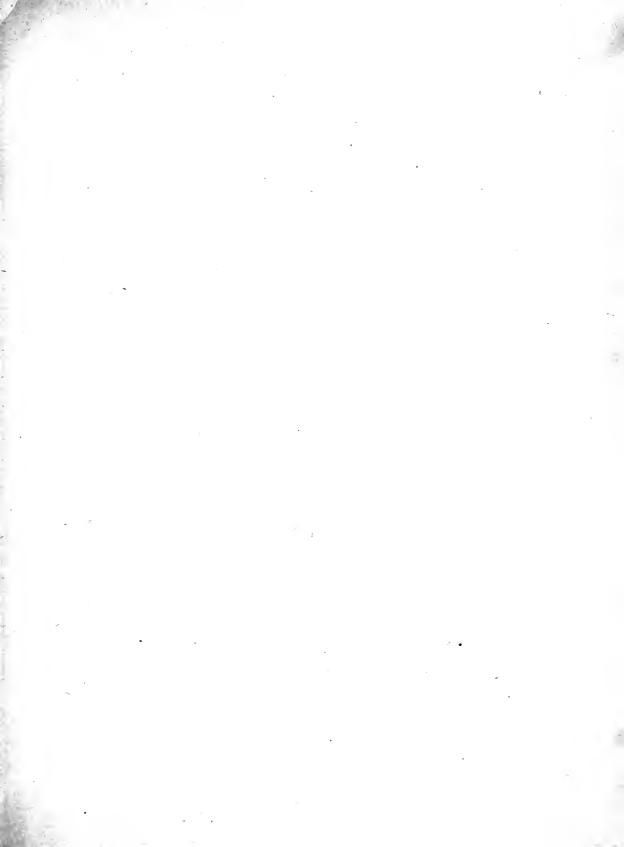

Class P. 3503

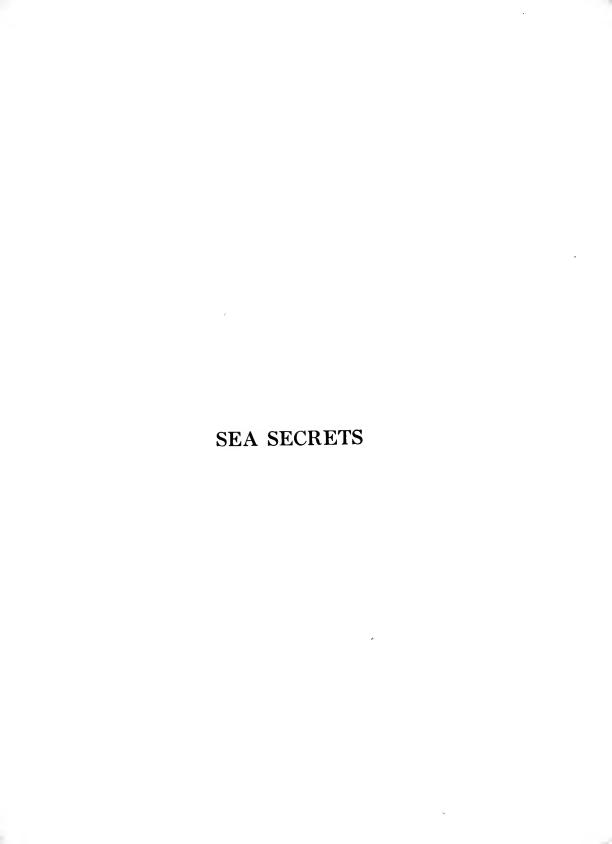

Book E 318 S +

Copyright No 122//

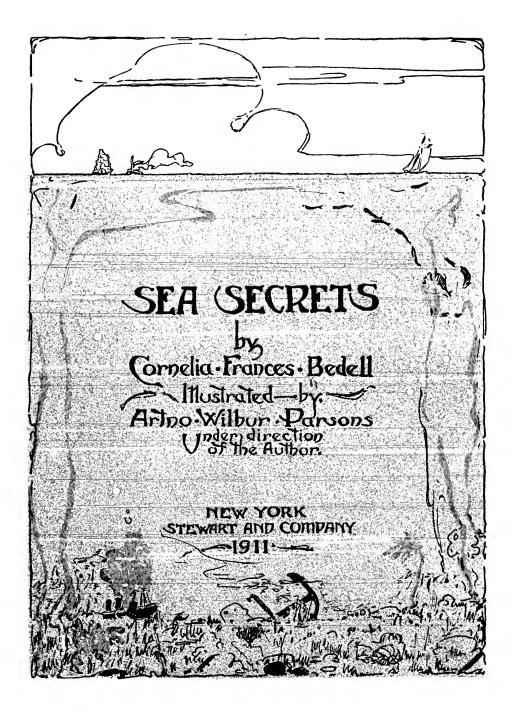

COPYRIGHT DEPOSIT.

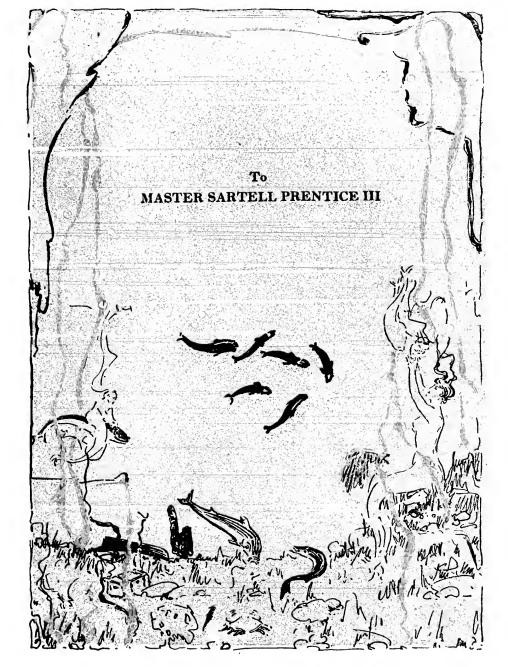

E218 57

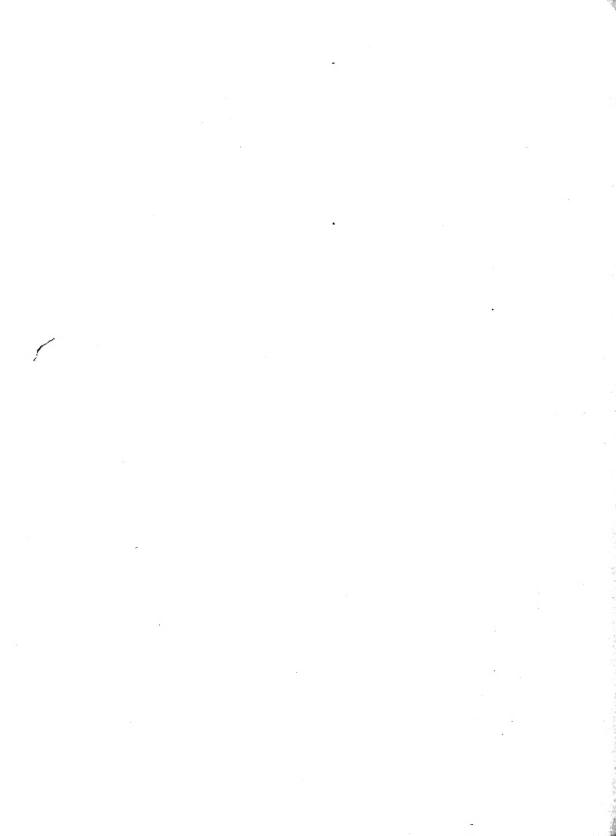

Copyright, 1911, by

STEWART AND COMPANY.

Published December, 1911

Printed in the United States of America

		CONTENTS		وكنيديد فيستعيد
16	Projegue		PAGE	the state of the s
	The Amia	ble Whale	11	STATE OF THE SECTION
1/	Miss Jelly	y-fish. apped Sponges	13	The state of the second control of the
1401	The Kidn	apped Sponges			r.
66		ble Lobster lebacks' New H		the second secon
1.14		dering Little St
1.1	The Wee	Little Sea-serpe	nt 25	and observations of the state o	y y
/ N /	The Jolly	Porpoise.	20		- 1
1 1	The Imag	inative Globe-fi	sh 31	manufactured to subject the said of the said of the
N. V.	The Luck	y Little Oyster -fish and Sir Pi
	The Danc	ing Crabs	ke 31 39
	The Flat	Flounder	43
1/	Sammy S	hark	45
1.		ea's Lullaby	47
		O vii			20 1
					NA
		1		HO	11
		$H^{-1}$			图解》
		r A	61	1 Wall	11.11
		70	/// III
		47	////
		///
			NA.
	A TIME
	CARRY				mes ,
11/10				100	-
True Con	STATE OF THE PARTY			CAN'N S	2
Mr Jak	1	N. S. S.	THE PARTY OF THE P	VA TINE	M
		ma it Lus	A WHAT I	· 1
	CALDER ON EMPLOYED AS A SECOND	ADDA TO THE REST OF THE PARTY O	21/1	1 2 2 4 4	A I WALL

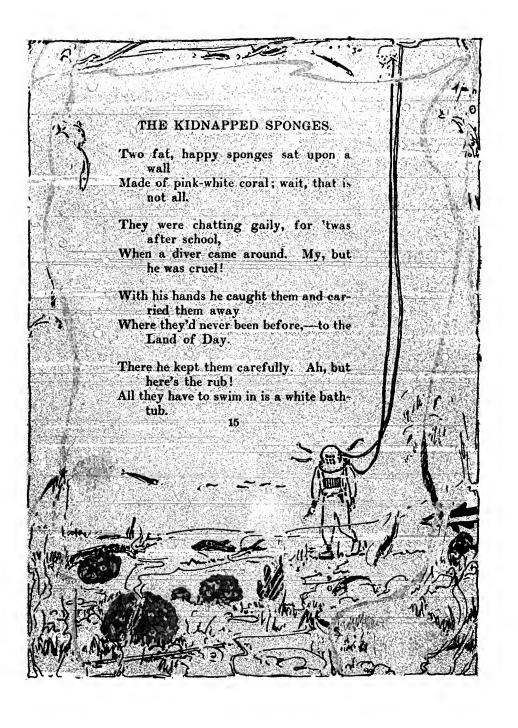

• ·

.

THE SOCIABLE LOBSTER. Miss Lobster gave a party, And swell guests by the score, Upon the great eventful day, Swam gaily to the door. Miss Mussel's gown was deepest brown, While Mrs. Crab wore green; And nothing coyer than Miss Clam For ages had been seen. The gentlemen were fine indeed :-A gallant, every one, Who meekly played his humble part And said his prayers when done. At supper time each guest could read, Upon his menu card, A list of things both rare and sweet, Which made resistance hard: Cold consommé of pink sea-grass, Ragout of violet snails, Black olives, young and tender, Broiled veins of fishes' tails. 17

And many dishes more beside, Whose names I can't repeat, Because they were not meant to spell, But only just to eat. And when, at last, 'twas time to go, Each guest rose with a sigh Of happiness too great for words-The rest we must pass by. But Miss Lobster's hospitality Was praised on every side, Till her shell came near to hursting From nothing but mere pride. 19

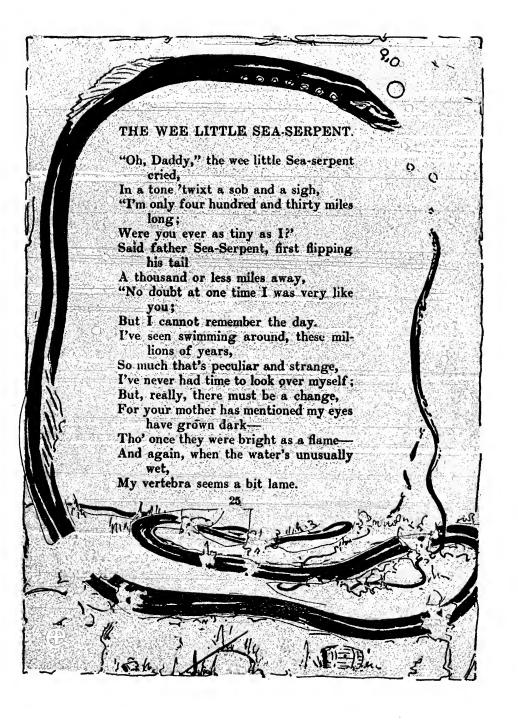

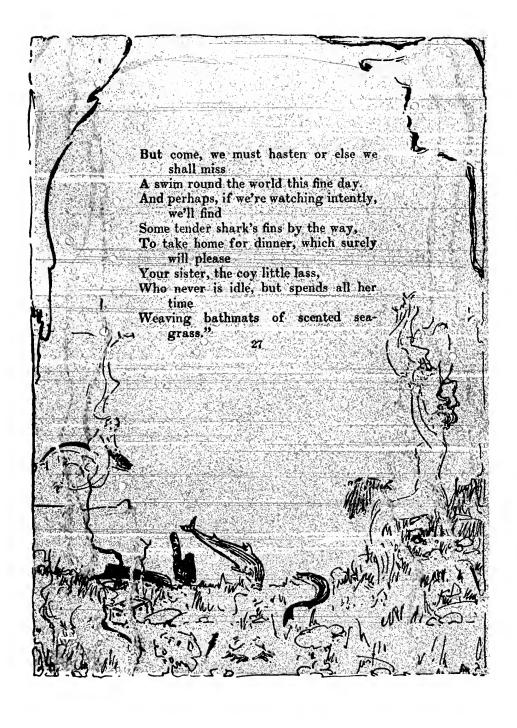

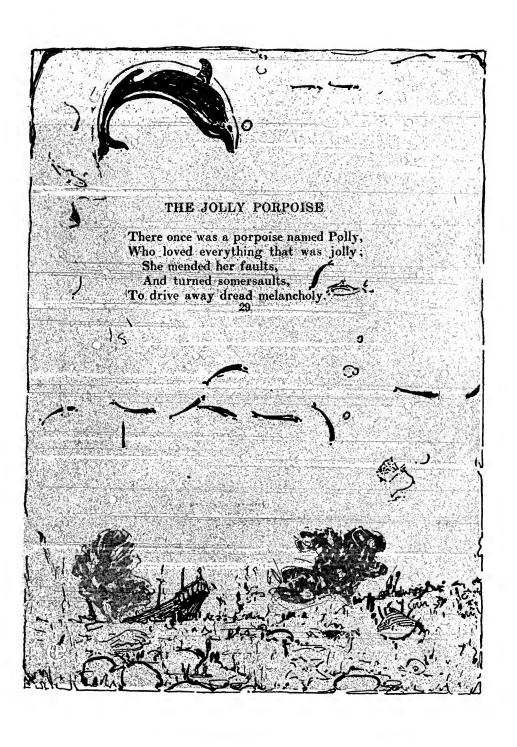

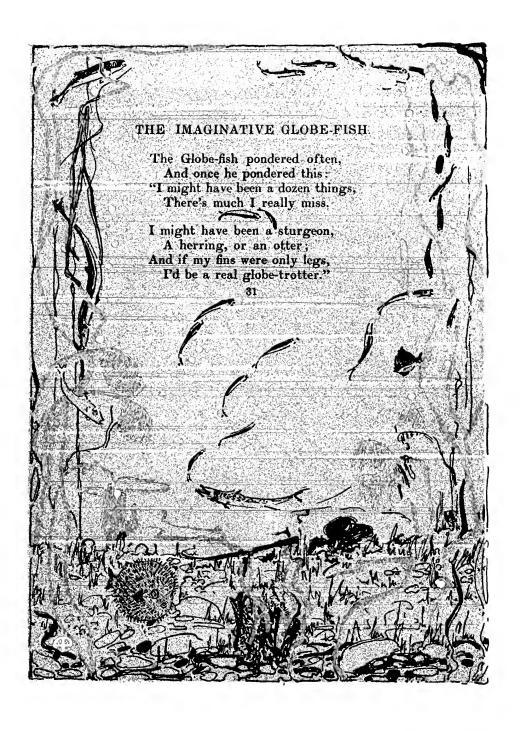

• •

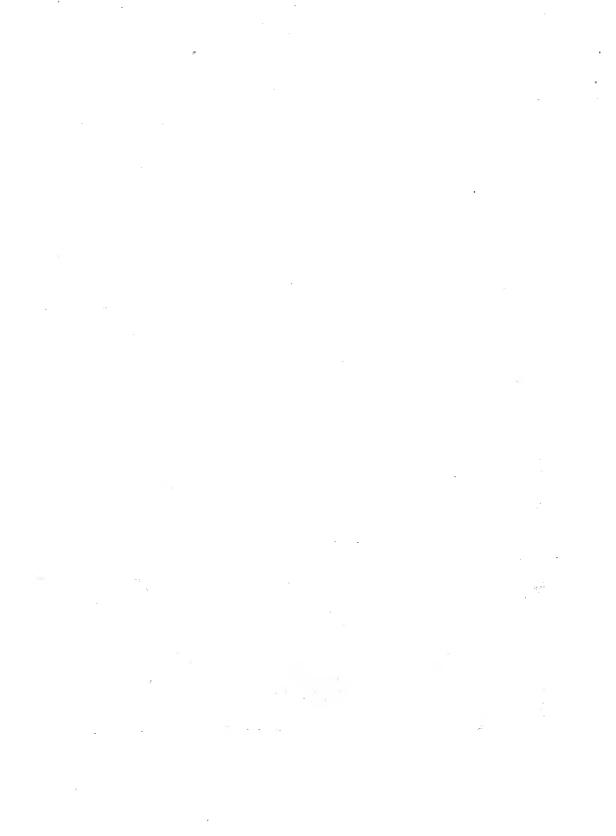

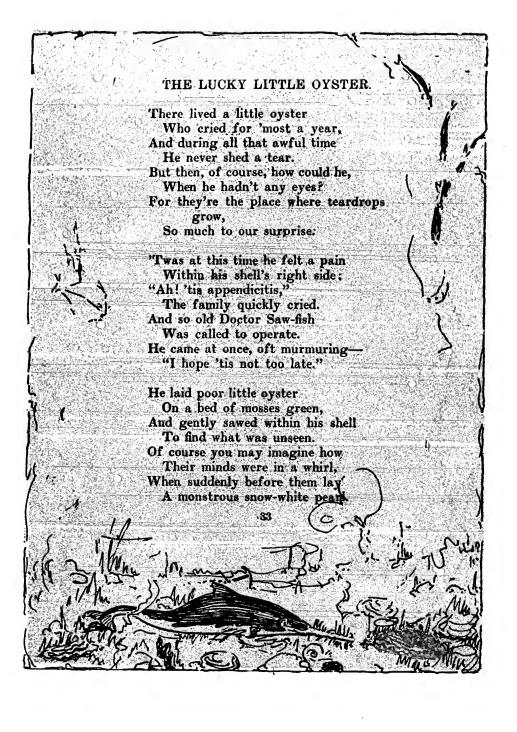

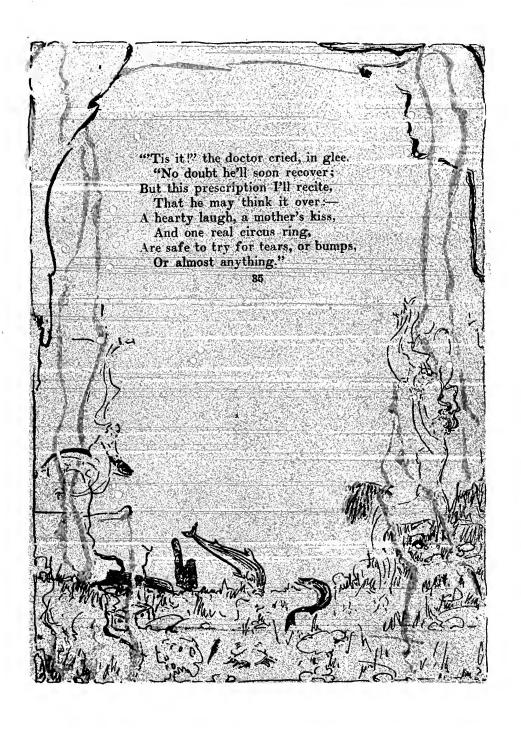

•

4 *

One copy del. to Cat. Div.

AN 9 1912

0 015 873 203 8